CANNONDESIGN

Mental health is whole child health.

Mental wellness is an ongoing journey, with a goal of having spaces and resources that empower and support patients towards lifelong mental and emotional well-being. Children, teenagers and their families and caregivers need this support, yet their care environments often lack the key hallmarks of growing up—curiosity, play and learning. Our pediatric and mental health design teams seek to create from a child’s perspective—so they can walk into a space and think, “this was built for me.”

Behavioral health fixtures manufactured by Willoughby Industries are built with ligature-resistant and vandal-resistant features to meet the ever demanding needs of behavioral health facilities.

Since opening in 1947, the mission of Willoughby Industries has been to manufacture the finest engineered plumbing products and accessories.

Having started in stainless steel sheet metal manufacturing, Willoughby—a third-generation, family-owned business—has expanded its expertise over the decades. The company’s drive; however, has never wavered. Put simply, be THE high-quality manufacturer of commercial and institutional plumbing products, and provide outstanding customer service.

Willoughby Industries is a true U.S. manufacturer, building all products in Indianapolis, Indiana before shipping them across the world!

WILLOUGHBY INDUSTRIES

Willoughby Industries designs and manufactures ligature-resistant plumbing solutions for behavioral healthcare environments where safety, durability, and dignity are critical. Our fixtures are engineered for seamless integration into the built environment, supporting patient well-being while withstanding the demands of high-use, high-risk facilities. Ligature-resistant designs, stainless steel and solid surface materials, and purpose-driven details support infection control, reliability, and long-term performance. Working closely with architects, engineers, and facility teams, we deliver dependable, easy-to-maintain solutions that help create secure, humane spaces for patients and staff.
